

CHRISTOPHER WHYTE

Chris is 25 and lives in Newquay

I was born in Truro but moved to the Midlands at a young age, moving back to the county when I was 10. I spent a lot of time in foster care when I was growing up, moving from home to home and ended up going to boarding school. From a young age I was in and out of school and never really settled, struggling to find a job when I eventually left.

I am very excited to be on the course and looking forward to learning everything I can about cooking!
